

Non-Commercial Private Event Municipal Information

Use of Farm Building

When farm buildings are used to host events such as dances, weddings, concerts, gatherings, etc. the building use is classified as “assembly occupancy”. Buildings used for an assembly occupancy must comply with applicable fire safety requirements in the Building Code and Fire Code. Assembly occupancy requirements in the Building Code and Fire Code deal with fire and life safety features, such as exits and means of egress, fire separations, flame spread ratings, fire alarm and detection systems, and sprinkler systems, as appropriate to the use of the building. These features, along with controls on fire hazards and implementation of emergency procedures, are needed to ensure the safety of occupants in the event of a fire emergency. Persons attending assembly functions in farm buildings that lack such features and controls may be at serious risk in the event of a fire emergency.

To use a farm building as an assembly occupancy contact the Cavan Monaghan Chief Building Official, Kyle Phillips, 705-932-9319 for a change of use and applicable requirements.
